

DEATH of the 'Ohana!

Manny Sardinha Jr., Times employee for 15 years, his wife Aleina and 7 children

What would you do if your employer took away:

- The guarantee of a 40-hour work week?
- Full medical coverage for you and your family?
- Contributions to your annuity (retirement fund)?
- Your right to work after years of loyal service?

The Mainland owner of Times is full of shibai!

California businessman John F. Quinn, owner of Food4Less, acquired Times Super Market from the kama'aina Teruya family in 2002. When he recently decided not to provide the same medical coverage for injured workers, he forced us to strike.

Now he's determined to take away even more – benefits that many of us have earned with our hard work and loyalty over the past 20 to 30 years with Times! And management calls this an 'ohana?!! In Hawai'i, we call that shibai, or lies, Mr. Quinn! Shame on you! We helped you turn Times into a thriving business once more, and this is the thanks we get?!!

Is this the 'Ohana Times always talks about?

- Where's the respect for people?
- Where's the loyalty to long-time employees?
- Where's the caring for members of our community?

*Why support someone who thinks he's kama'aina simply because he does business here? WE ARE KAMA'AINA!
Please support our 'Ohana by not shopping at Times.*

Mahalo!

Manny Sardinha Jr., his family, and the entire extended 'Ohana of Times Meat Department
